

Pak features in US commission's list of world's most religious discriminatory countries

<http://www.dailyindia.com/show/310754.php>

Lahore, May 2: The United States Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) has listed Pakistan as a 'country of particular concern'.

The list includes name of such countries where the governments have been unable or unwilling to counter religious violence, and discriminate against people on religious basis.

With Pakistan's name also featuring in the list, it now joins countries like Iran Iran, Iraq, China, North Korea, Saudi Arabia, Sudan and Vietnam, as being the world's biggest and worst violators of religious freedom and human rights.